

Imagineers!

Winter Session, 2018

"Scientists investigate that which already is; Engineers create that which has never been." - Albert Einstein

Do you like to design and create? Are you a tinkerer? Do you like to see how things work? Come join our Imagineers as we discover what it means to be innovators, engineers, and inventors on Wednesday afternoons from 11:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Nothing is out of reach when you use your imagination and a wide variety of tools and materials. So you want to be an inventor? Are you a kid who likes to tinker with machines that clink and clank, levers that pull, bells that ring, cogs that grind, switches that turn on and off and dials that spin? Then this is the class for you! During our winter session, our Imagineers will be solving problems by creating their own imaginative solutions. Young children are curious, open, natural learners. They want to know how things work- the essential STEAM question.

STEAM is a research-based, educational approach that uses Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts, and Mathematics. Students are encouraged to ask questions, imagine, plan, create, test and improve their designs. Since the arts are a natural part of early childhood education, our Imagineers will focus on their own creations and designs, while learning the basic concepts of engineering. By engaging children in STEAM at an early age, we encourage their natural inquisitiveness and begin to build a love of learning that fosters development of many critical thinking skills.

Imagineers will be surprised as they use basic engineering principles to invent solutions while having fun creating! We will be so excited to see how our Imagineers use problem solving skills to make new discoveries!

Let's get our imaginations in gear and engineer!!
